

Neue Fähre

The main level is raised of the ground, as the deck of a ferry would be, and the access points are set where they already were. Both decks at the bow and stern comprise together with the upper deck, the public areas to be accessible at all time. These areas by themselves or in interaction with the restaurant, the workshop, and the square in front of the ferry, enable a manifold of possible uses.

The ferry is part of the collective memory of the inhabitants of Lochau. A place of everyday life and special occurrences. The formed qualities hereof should be carried forward. Spatial configurations, circulation patterns, visual axis, materiality, colors, proportions and a choice of existing elements will be constituent for the Neue Fähre.

point cloud – Alte Fähre

reused elements – Alte Fähre